CONCEPT ACCEPTANCE
On October 20, 2015, the Federal Highway Administration signed the Type 2 Categorical Exclusion pertaining to the Project Development and Environment study that was conducted by the Florida Department of Transportation for the above-mentioned project. The purpose of the study was to examine the reconstruction of Ellis Road as a four-lane facility in conjunction with building an extension to Interstate 95 (I-95) and constructing a new interchange with I-95 at Ellis Road in Brevard County. By signing the Type 2 Categorical Exclusion document, the Federal Highway Administration accepted the location and design concept of the selected alternative. These approved environmental reports and additional supporting documents can be viewed at the project website, www.ellisroadpde.com.
